

CIVIC ISSUES DEBATE GROUP

High school students interested in science and engineering meet weekly all summer to explore robotics technologies

Participants develop their reading skills

Youth learn component-based robot construction, engineering design concepts & programming

Regular reading, selection of multiple genres

CIVIC ISSUES DEBATE GROUP

High school students interested in science and engineering meet weekly all summer to explore robotics technologies

Participants develop their reading skills

Youth learn component-based robot construction, engineering design concepts & programming

Regular reading, selection of multiple genres

Daily 2-hour reading sessions with assistance and discussions (with certified instructors)

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

80% of youth-designed machines will operate as planned

ROBOTICS ADVENTURE CLUB

Improved communication skills

Daily 2-hour reading sessions with assistance and discussions (with certified instructors)

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

80% of youth-designed machines will operate as planned

ROBOTICS ADVENTURE CLUB

Improved communication skills

At least two-thirds of participants successfully make presentations

Weekly meetings of speech and debate group. Includes youth-organized service projects and culminating presentations.

Ability to speak before an audience about an issue of importance

The robots built by students will qualify to enter a robotics challenge and demonstration at the end of the camp

Most (85% or more) participants will read at least 2 different types of books over the summer

At least two-thirds of participants successfully make presentations

Weekly meetings of speech and debate group. Includes youth-organized service projects and culminating presentations.

Ability to speak before an audience about an issue of importance

The robots built by students will qualify to enter a robotics challenge and demonstration at the end of the camp

Most (85% or more) participants will read at least 2 different types of books over the summer